Shop early in Auburn.

On last Friday Mrs. Deneen fell off a Wentworth Ave. car at 69th St. and broke her wrist. We hope nothing more serious will result.

Supt. of Schools Shoop has made a plea among the principals and teachers to instruct the children in the respecting of city property, especially against the destruction of street lamps. In the past year the repairing and installing of new lights, caused by malicious boys, aggregated $30,000.00.

Mr. Simon Pease, for many years prominent in Auburn Park business circles and now engaged in the hardware business at 7834 S. Halsted St., enlisted in the Quartermaster's Department of the U. S. Army and has been ordered to report for duty tomorrow (Wednesday). He will leave from here for Jacksonville, Fla., where he will take up his duties as Quartermaster Sergeant. Mr. Pease was the recipient of many fine tokens of the esteem in which he is held by those who know him. We know that Mr. Pease will make a mark for himself and wish him well.

The U. S. Government is making a request for field glasses to be loaned to the army. For further information please write to Harold Ickes, 120 W. Adams St., Chairman Neighbor Committee of National Council of Defence.

Do your Christmas shopping in Auburn, the wise buyer's trading place, and save money.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kempler of the Auburn 5 and 10 Cent Store are the proud parents of a fine baby boy. From the bright smile on Mr. Kempler's face these days we judge that it is a fine youngster and the mother is getting along nicely.

On last Saturday the Manual Training Boys of the Chicago Public Schools held a sale in the Mallers building, 18th floor. Furniture and other articles made by the boys were sold and the proceeds given to the Red Cross.

In its campaign for the saving of coal the Fuel Administration declares the average American home is superheated. Eminent American physicians are quoted as saying that a room above 68 degrees Fahrenheit is too warm for health and exposes the occupants to catarrhal diseases and pneumonia.

More than half of the 1,250 colored men who completed the course at the reserve officers' training camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, have been commissioned as officers in the Army. Nearly 100 colored physicians and surgeons have received commissions as officers in the Medical Reserve Corps. A full fighting force of 80,000 colored soldiers, including representatives in all branches of military service, will constitute the Ninety-second Division, to be detailed for duty in France under Gen. Pershing.

EXTRAORDINARY CHRISTMAS ISSUE

We wish to take this occasion to extend our sincere thanks to our readers and advertisers for their co-operation in making it possible for us to publish this six-page issue of The Auburn Community Booster. A perusal of the pages will bring out the fact that this paper may be used as a Christmas shopping guide, carrying as it does seasonable and suitable offerings, in fact the Christmas message of nearly every merchant in the community.

We cannot help but feel proud of the testimonial to the service rendered by the Auburn Community Booster as evidenced by this large volume of advertising, the largest amount ever carried in any single issue of any medium in this community, and again renew our pledge of a continuation of our policy of the greatest service to the greatest number.

We conclude by offering our hearty greetings to the entire community and our wish for Christmas is that you may receive that which you want most.—The Editor.

Auburn Red Cross

Last Wednesday evening the Auburn Park Auxiliary of the Red Cross met at the home of Miss Tessie Laden. Surgical dressings were taught by Mrs. Maxwell, the teacher. On Monday evening the Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Hughes, 1723 79th St. The evening was spent in knitting and making surgical dressings.

On account of the increase in membership larger quarters are needed. During the week a room in St. Sabina's school, 78th and Throop, will be opened all day. Instructors will teach surgical dressings and knitting. Machines will be rented to make hospital garments.

The Auxiliary is for all denominations, for it is felt that in doing Red Cross work we are all one.

We are glad to hear that Miss Grinblecombe is improving.

On Friday afternoon there was a patriotic meeting held at the Normal School. The Great Lakes Band furnished music. Mr. Shoop spoke, also Mr. O'Grady from "somewhere in France." A dance was held in the gym after the patriotic program.

Give Practical Gifts This Christmas

This being our first war-time Christmas with its resultant sober thoughts we will no doubt be more thoughtful in the giving of gifts of a useful and practical nature. In accord with this thought we suggest as gifts, assortments of our fine canned goods, fancy fruits and nuts or groceries. This suggestion should be especially valuable to "Good Fellows," as your money will buy the greatest amount here.

Christmas Gifts

For All The Year Round

CHRISTMAS this year will be Christmas just the same—but the more sober reflections which occupy our thoughts may influence many to give as gifts the very practical things, and as this will be our first war-time Christmas, they widen instead of narrow the circle of friends to be remembered.

Shoes or Slippers make most practical Christmas Gifts and we are prepared to supply them for Men, Women and Children.

"Who Goes There"

Adapted from the famous novel by Robert W. Chambers

ALL those who admired the great acting of Harry Morey in "Within the Law" should grasp this opportunity of seeing him in this feature. He is without doubt the best dramatic actor in pictures

A GREAT STORY

IT WAS a secret to both—a secret that bolted the door to mutual confidence and love. Kerwyn Guild had given his word of honor that he would bring the girl back from London to the man who had grudgingly given him back his life. But the girl—she, too, had given a promise—a promise that she would return with a mysterious bag to the man she loved. She held this promise given as sacred as the bond between her and the brave man who had come into her life just at the dawning of womanhood. World-stirring events were moving swiftly about them and moving with the great red tide was the destiny of these two—a man, a maid—each straining at the leashes of honor that they might have love.

Do Not Sell Your Liberty Bond

The man who subscribes for a Government bond, and is advertised as a patriot for doing so, is not a patriot if he immediately sells that bond on the market when he does not imperatively need the money. It is not mere subscription to a bond that helps the Government; it is by actually lending money to the Government and not by merely promising it and shifting the load to some one else that the citizen really helps in this great time.

There is no desire, however, on the part of the Government, to prevent or to interfere with the freedom of legitimate trading in Government bonds—that is, trading in good faith.

Our Courage and Resources

The courage and resources of the nation are so abundant that America's success in the war is beyond question if they are properly organized and intelligently used. The economic and financial condition of the country was never so strong and America's spirit was never more aroused to the importance and necessity of going forward, resolutely and regardless of sacrifices, to the accomplishment of the great task to which God has called us.

Some Draft Answers Not Made Public

Answers of registrants on the selective draft questionnaires relating to health and answers under the head "dependency," with the exception of the names and addresses of persons claimed to be dependent, will not be open to inspection by the public without the consent of the registrants.

Imprisonment for not to exceed one year will be the penalty imposed on anyone connected with the administration of the selective draft law who shall make this information public.

Increased Demand For Trained Men

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker urges men in scientific institutions to continue their training.

"The Government service will demand more and more scientifically trained men," said he, "and I hope those who are in charge of scientific institutions will impress upon the young men the importance of continuing their studies, except to the extent that they are necessarily interrupted by a mandatory call under the provisions of the selective-service law."

Every effort will be made to use each student's special training in connection with specialized occupations in the Army, to afford technical students liable to call as great an opportunity through the National Army as if they had enlisted.

Rules for Illumination of Electric Signs

Orders governing the use of electric signs, made by the Fuel Administration to assist in conserving fuel, apply to the entire country—villages and small cities as well as the larger centers. Among these instructions are:

Directional signs on retail stores may be illuminated from one-half hour after sunset until closing time, but not later than 11 P. M.; such signs on theaters may be illuminated from one-half hour after time of commencement of last performance. Display advertising on theaters and retail stores may only operate between 7:45 and 11 P. M.

Enforcement of the orders is in the hands of State fuel administrators.

20,000 Nurses Needed In Army Hospitals

With a continuance of the war, in the next year at least 20,000 nurses will be needed in Army hospitals at home and abroad. Of the 80,000 graduate nurses of the country only 3,500 have so far been assigned to duty in Army service, and of this number 1,500 are in France.

An Army nurse must be a graduate of a training school for nurses and must have served for two years in a hospital. They are assigned to duty in the United States or abroad, and preferences are granted when conditions permit. Nurses who prefer not to have service abroad will have their preferences respected.

Parent-Teacher Association

The Parent-Teacher Association of Oglesby School meets Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 2 P. M., in the school assembly hall. Dr. Lena Sadler speaks on "Welfare of the Child."

Every mother in the district should hear Dr. Sadler's talk and to the school-room which brings out the largest number of mothers the Association will furnish a quantity of wool for the refugee work.

There is still some wool to be given out before the Christmas vacation and it is to be hoped some plain sewers will be able to attend Wednesday morning to finish the garments already started.

"Today"

Everyone has heard of George Broadhurst's famous stage success, "Today," which was classed as one of the greatest plays of all time, but only a small per cent of the public has had an opportunity to witness the wonderful drama. It has been picturized, making it possible for all to witness it, and it will be shown at the Cosmopolitan theatre, on Thursday, Dec. 20. Florence Reed, the emotional actress who scored such a tremendous success as Tisha in "The Wanderer" at the Manhattan Theatre, New York City, is playing the leading role, her supporting company comprising a galaxy of screen stars, and the picture is so much more interesting than the stage version that it is given preference over its predecessor by the leading critics of the country.

Sensationalism runs rampant throughout the entire production, the story being that of a beautiful woman of weak morals, who when her husband's fortune is gone, selects the easiest method to secure fine clothes for herself.

Florence Reed as the wife, plays one of the most entrancing roles of her long career on the stage and screen. She herself has said that it is the most difficult one which she has ever been asked to play, but it was so alluring to her that when she was asked to take the part she gave up her place as the star in "The Wanderer" and threw her whole soul into the role, the result being that she has surpassed all of her previous efforts as an actress.

Never has a stronger, more fascinating tale of the folly of woman been told and the gripping, pulsating manner in which it is presented on the screen holds the audience spellbound with its magnetism.

Thrift!

Secretary McAdoo has created a new system of thrift, a means by which the richest and the poorest may partake. The thrift-stamp—a little 25c stamp pasted humbly in the corner of a little card, and room for sixteen more. After the card has been filled with the sixteen stamps (which may be purchased any time between 1917 and 1923), it shall be exchanged for a War-Savings certificate, which in 1923, at 4 per cent compound interest, will net the bearer $5. No person shall buy more than $100 worth at one time, and not more than $1,000 worth within the five years.

If one does not care to purchase the War-Savings certificate by the 25c installment plan he may buy it at one time, paying the following price:

Dec., 1917-Jan., 1918—$4.12.
Feb., 1918—$4.13.
March, 1918—$4.14.
April, 1918—$4.15.
May, 1918—$4.16.
June, 1918—$4.17.
July, 1918—$4.18.
etc., adding one cent for each additional month.

Post Exchanges Make Camp Life Pleasant

Men at the cantonment buy many articles at the post exchanges for less money than they would have to pay in their home-town stores. And the post exchange manager is authority for the statement that 40,000 men make a tremendous demand for 5-cent packages of candy. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon there is a general rush for apples, sweet crackers, and coffee or milk, despite the fact that big dinners will be ready a couple of hours later.

The problem of supplying the men in Army cantonments with small necessities and luxuries which the Government does not furnish is met by the Commission on Training Camp Activities through these post exchanges. They are to be found at each cantonment, there being as a rule one exchange for each regiment. Each carries an average of $10,000 worth of goods.

Business is nearly all done on a credit basis. Men obtain books of 5 and 10 cent coupons and pay for them at the end of the month. Post exchanges average $1,000 a day in sales, and as there are about 260 in operation, the yearly business will aggregate many millions of dollars.

In some Army and National Guard camps contractors who undertook to dispose of garbage at a price based upon the amount they expected to get are threatening to throw up their contracts because the amount is so small.

The Surgeon General's Office and the Quartermaster's Department are co-operating to secure the best nutrition of soldiers with the least waste. Officers of the food division give instruction in food values, balancing of menus, and methods of cooking and serving.

Mae Marsh, who is appearing in her third Goldwyn starring vehicle, "The Cinderella Man," from the famous stage success of the same name by Edward Childs Carpenter, at the Cosmopolitan Theatre, Saturday, Dec. 22, enjoys the distinction of being the one motion picture artist who is so versatile that critics have been unable to find a phrase describing her in all of her plays. She has been called, among other nicknames, "the whim girl of the screen," "the girl of a thousand faces," "the quaint actress," "the girl who has everything," a song without words," "the chameleon of the screen," "the goddess behind the mist," "the Bernhardt of the screen," and "Ellen Terry at seventeen."

Special Shows at The Cosmopolitan

Dec. 24th is going to be some day for the kiddies. Every child will be looking for Santa Claus and if they take our tip they will drop in to the Cosmopolitan theatre at the matinee and meet him face to face. The management has arranged for a special bill that will appeal to the little ones. And Santa will have a bag full of toys, candy, dolls, skates, etc., in fact a gift for each child present. New Year's Eve there is going to be a big Midnight Show, 6 acts of vaudeville and also pictures. Reserve your seats at once, for the choice seats are going fast. Souvenirs and confetti.

Rhythmical Breathing

A few years ago I found it hard to keep in good physical condition, that is, to keep in trim to do athletic exercises and have good wind and keep good weight, but now I have it fine I learned deep breathing in Germany, in the Turnverein, in Paris I had special breathing lessons for swimming and diving, while in Japan I tried to study a few of then so called tricks in breathing Each country and system gave me new points but I did not succeed entirely until I heard Doctor Hanish explain breathing from A to Z, from the Mother breath down to the Rhythmic breath Then I learned what I could do with breathing I changed my diet to strictly Mazdaznan and after a few years found myself younger in looks and feelings, in better trim stronger and better developed, than I had ever been before My friends tell me that I looked older when twenty five than I do today I am as limber now as when a boy and all this change is due wholly to the teachings of the Mazdaznan System

Years ago I worked hard in the gymnasium devoted much time to my body, did all kinds of exercises and still was not what I should have been The first principle of life I did not do justice to As a boy I thought it a joke to take breathing exercises I thought every one could breathe, but now I know that very few know how to breathe that it is an art and must be cultivated, understood and practiced

People often remark to me Professor you surely do a great deal of practicing to keep you in such splendid condition On the contrary I work on an average sixteen hours a day and never practice unless it is to give lessons The only exercise I take is on the street when I walk and take my breathing exercise I also stretch my muscles before going to bed, which not takes me less than one minute Once in a while when I have time I take a sun bath Then these people wonder and think I am telling falsehoods but I say to them Go and do like we do and you will be the same

It is the same with the preliminary course exercise which is used as a means to an end in bringing your body to a physical condition as near perfection as you can get, then it is easy to keep in such condition

Learn how to walk straight When you have acquired that habit you will keep it without thinking of it Learn deep rhythmic Breathing and after a while you will use it unconsciously

Develop the muscles of your body to their highest form and it will be an easy matter to keep them so but you must persist and then enjoy—just as you must climb the mountain in order to gaze down upon the surrounding scenery

In regard to diet Many people think a person who does not eat meat cannot be strong Several of my friends had the same opinion until they met me in the gymnasium and I made them quit first because I had the power of endurance and the breath which they did not have As far as muscular development is concerned, we will stand alongside a meat eater and prove that a vegetarian is stronger, more limber, better developed and has more endurance than they A meat eating athletic gets stiff when he is thirty or thirty five years old Uric acid accumulates in his system causing him to have gout and rheumatism You will find the vegetarian at that age just as good as when twenty due wholly to correct living and a little respect for his stomach We do not believe in training like animals for five or six weeks and afterwards be so worked out that we need six months' rest to bring us back to our natural condition No that is unnatural vet we see it every day Young fellows who have been prominent athletes break down and are no good after six or eight years of such life Some of them are all in before they get to be twenty five years old and at thirty think they are old men and they don't know why Tell me of a strong man or an athlete who reaches the age of fifty Not it is impossible They sin against nature and themselves and the penalty of sin is premature death Mother nature and she make you pay to the last cent for the old saying holds good today as it always did "Anything overdone is a vice—even exercise"

Holiday Message to Our Fighting Men

By George Ade

(Contributed to National Security League's campaign on patriotism through education)

We must win the big war or else revise all moral codes, rewrite all proverbs and adopt a brand new set of rules to govern conduct

We have accepted certain time honored adages as self evident truths We found them in our early copybooks and we grew up on them and repeated them so often that naturally we came to think they could be relied upon

Then Germany came along with an intensely modern variety of Ethics, bearing the label of Kultur

The new medicine is not taken internally or rubbed on as a liniment but you have it shot into you by a large gun

Unless we relase to take the treatment everything that we ever believed will be overruled, discarded and thrown into the alley

If Germany is not licked to a standstill we might as well begin to memorize and humbly accept the following

Dishonesty is the best policy

Be as mean as a skunk and you will be happy

Blessed are the child murderers, for they shall inherit the earth

Be sure you are right handy with firearms, then go ahead

An evil reputation is better than riches

Truth crushed to earth will not rise again if the crushing is done in a superior and efficient manner

Be virtuous and you will be miserable

Thrice armed is he who goes around picking quarrels

Might makes right

Hell on earth and hatred for all men

Do unto others as you suspect that they might do unto you if they ever got to be as disreputable as you are

God helps the man that helps himself to his neighbor's house and his fields and his unprotected women

Those don't sound right, do they? The old ones that we learned first of all are not yet out of date

WAR BLAMED FOR DELINQUENCY

Judges Arnold and Pam Tell Intercollegiate Club of Peril

"Delinquency among boys has increased 32 per cent in the last year," Judge Victor P Arnold of the Juvenile court told members of the social and civic service commission of the Intercollegiate club recently War which has robbed the boys' work in Chicago of a large part of its workers and which has stimulated the imaginations of the youths to deeds of violence were causes assigned by Judge Hugo Pam of the Superior Court for this increase in criminal tendencies among the youths of Chicago

Judge Arnold complained that Chief Schuettler was taking the fifty seven policemen who were assigned the Juvenile Court away and returning them to beats "These men have been particularly chosen for their ability to handle delinquency cases The boys will recognize instantly that these men are gone and they will run wild" said Judge Arnold He said he expected an increase of 132 per cent in delinquency for the coming year unless some plan was worked out to supply the Juvenile Court with competent help

Commends Boy Scouts

Boys who belong to the Y M C A or to the Boy Scouts don't get into trouble, Judge Arnold said Three Boy Scouts have been brought into his court in nearly two years, and these were so thoroughly ashamed that no further action had to be taken The judge recommended recreational clubs as a means of saving the boy

Forty per cent of the serious crime is committed by boys between the ages of 16 and 21," said Judge Hugo Pam "Seventy-five per cent of these boys come from homes where poverty exists" The fathers and mothers of these youths, the judge said, were so fagged out by their days of hard labor that they could give neither intellectual nor moral stimulus to the children

Urges Healthful Play

Leaders who would go into these homes and bring the kids out to play at the public playgrounds, the Y M C A, the Boy Scout patrols, and similar organizations Judge Pam said would do much to prevent boys going wrong

BE MERRY

Gov Lowden issued the following Christmas greeting

"Though Christmas gifts will be largely lacking, though family groups will be incomplete because of the absence of our soldier boys, we still may celebrate Christmas with warm hand clasps, with good cheer and good fellowship Let us at home take a lesson from our soldiers in the camp They true soldiers that they are you may be sure will make merry all day long Certainly, then, we at home, should yield fully to the spirit of the yuletide

'The capture of Bethlehem from the Turk just before Christmas eve is in itself a good omen It means that the Star of Hope for all humanity again has risen in the eastern sky Surely we are permitted to hope on this Christmas, that the day of peace on earth, good will toward all men' is ever drawing nearer '
